Single Platform, In Store & Online

eCommerce is an integral part of any retail business; but having your online and brick-and-mortar channels on a single platform is key. With a single system, your inventory, sales and customer data is updated and reflected throughout the enterprise in real-time as transactions are completed.

- Access real-time, shared inventory across your stores, warehouse & website
- Offer cross-channel pricing, promotions, coupons & gift cards
- Easily post & manage products on your website from the point of sale
- Automatically fulfill online orders from any location

We moved to Celerant to solve the multi-channel or omni-channel dilemma so to speak. I am processing north of 1,000 orders every day; Celerant has given me the ability to automate the fulfillment process for all my orders, whether it's in store, on our website, over the phone or on Amazon. The fact we can sell across all channels and have that in one unified system... it just makes sense."

Improve the Online Shopping Experience

To help you increase conversions, Celerant provides mobile-responsive designs, advanced navigation and unlimited filters so shoppers can easily find the products they desire. Our powerful shopping cart provides a fast and secure checkout process; accepts all major credit cards and PayPal; and offers multiple shipping options.

- Offer unlimited product filters & views
- Provide product comparisons & customer reviews
- Assist customers with live chat & access to live shopping carts
- Provide estimated shipping rates - UPS, FedEx, USPS
- Accept multiple payment methods, including PayPal
- Reduce breaches via PCI & SOX compliance, fraud scoring & tokenization

Offer an 'Endless Aisle' via Vendor Integrations

By leveraging your vendors, you can compete with big-box retailers by offering more products and a wider selection of merchandise without having to stock or ship more inventory. With 'live data feeds', you can display and sell your vendors' available inventory online, with 360° products images; and automatically send orders to your vendors for drop shipping.

- Offer an 'endless aisle' of products with images
- Display your vendor's available stock in real-time
- Drop ship orders through your vendors
- Prioritize which vendors' products to sell first
- Monitor & optimize vendor performance
- Integrate with SPS Commerce™ for advanced EDI

Fulfill Orders from the 'Best Store' or Warehouse

Celerant's 'Best Store' Fulfillment module automatically selects the optimal location to fulfill from, increasing turn-around times, and cutting order processing in half. The system determines the 'best' store based on location, stock levels, planned promotions, staffing, pickup frequency and other factors.

- Manage each store location as a 'mini warehouse'
- Automatically select the 'best' location to fulfill from
- Rotate stores to prevent over-utilizing your stores' staff & inventory
- Receive alerts when a store accepts, rejects & fulfills an order

Without Celerant's 'Best Store' Fulfillment, it would have been impossible to maintain our 60% growth in online sales each year, for the past 3 years. We saved our eCommerce team over 4 hours/day by not manually splitting orders; as well as another 1 hour/day per store, eliminating all the back and forth between locations- and with 17 stores, that's significant! We also eliminated weekend eCommerce payroll, since our stores have immediate access to their orders."

Expand your Reach with Marketplace Integrations

Reach new customers through Celerant's seamless integrations to popular online marketplaces and auction sites, such as Amazon, eBay and Walmart. You can easily upload products to each channel; track all sales in a single place, alongside your web sales; and offload fulfillment to the third-party.

- Integrate with Amazon, eBay, Walmart, Channel Advisor, Facebook & others
- Offload fulfillment & customer service to the 3rd-party
- Take advantage of Amazon Prime Free 2-Day shipping
- Leverage price comparison integrations with Amazon & Google Shopping

Increase Online Conversions with Personalized Email Marketing

Celerant offers integrated email marketing that's personalized for your customers. The platform pulls real-time customer and sales data to dynamically segment consumers; and sends promotional emails based on their past purchases, brand preferences and demographics. By sending the right message at the right time, you increase the chances they will click and convert into a sale.

- Segment your email lists based on live CRM & sales data
- Send personalized emails, as opposed to mass, blind emails
- Automate workflows for abandoned carts, upsells, online reviews & more

There are plenty of companies that offer SEO services, but since I was already using Celerant for POS and eCommerce, they were able to 'hit the ground running'. After about just 9 months of working with Celerant's SEO team, daily traffic has more than doubled, indicating higher page rankings are working to drive more visitors. What's even more impressive is the quality of traffic; conversion rates have quadrupled in under a year."

Our website took our regional stores to a national level. The real-time visibility lets us compare inventory across our 4 stores and online- we're able to see where styles are selling better, so we can allocate products where they are needed most. Without Celerant, I wouldn't be able to react to trends as quickly, and would have more stock-outs and over-stocks, driving customers to our competition."
